

Our airways are already controlled too much by big corporations- and therefore driven by consumerism and money. The only way to serve the people best is to have diversity. Ownership of the airways is by the People. I have not heard a need from the public to deregulate this way. Why and how did this even come up?